

I FOUND A SNAKE! WHAT DO I DO?

If you cannot identify the snake, the safest thing you can do is leave it alone. Snakes are not aggressive and will most likely flee when they see you.

Snakes around your home provide many benefits including controlling rodent populations and consuming insect pests.

How can you help snakes?

Every year snakes are brought to our hospital from human-related injuries.

Keep a snake friendly yard by not leaving netting, line, and sticky traps outside!

If you find a snake that is injured, contact your local wildlife hospital.
